Welcome You All

We at Kwantlen Polytechnic University respectfully acknowledge that we live, work and study in a region that overlaps with the unceded traditional and ancestral First Nations territories of the xwməθkwəy̅əm (Musqueam), q̓i c̓ə y̅ (Katzie), SEMYOME (Semiahmoo), sc̓ə wəθən (Tsawwassen), q̓iq̓éyt (Qayqayt), and kwikwəł̓əm (Kwikwetlem), and with the lands of the q̓w̓ a:n̓̓ é̅ n̓̓ (Kwantlen) First Nation, which gifted its name to this university.

In the cause of reconciliation, we recognize our commitment to address and reduce ongoing systemic colonialism, oppression and racism that Indigenous Peoples continue to experience.

OUR GRADS ARE MAKING A POSITIVE IMPACT IN OUR COMMUNITIES AND BEYOND

LELAND HARPER, GENERAL STUDIES GRAD

Today, Leland Harper is an assistant professor of philosophy at Siena Heights University in Michigan, teaching second- and fourth-year philosophy and liberal arts courses. He also served as the interim director of the university's Ethnic and Gender Studies Institute.

Already an author of two books, Harper has a third on its way.

“Exploring different subjects at KPU gave me freedom to follow my curiosity and develop intellectually.”

“I work well with connection, so I appreciated the instructors knowing my name instead of sitting in a lecture hall.”

ANNIE CHRISTIAENS, BUSINESS MARKETING GRAD

In 2018, Annie Christiaens opened The Heart, a mixed-use space with a trendy boutique – selling locally-made clothing and bath products as well as her own line of Pier Prints coffee mugs – and a co-working space in the back, catering to local entrepreneurs like herself.

Annie, who graduated from KPU in 2015 with a certificate in business marketing, says The Heart started off as a dream – something she thought of every day. It was cultivated over years of working other jobs, paving the way for what she most cared about: creating lasting connections with community. Within a year, The Heart won The Cloverdale Chamber of Commerce Best New Business Award.
