Welcome You All

We at Kwantlen Polytechnic University respectfully acknowledge that we live, work and study in a region that overlaps with the unceded traditional and ancestral First Nations territories of the xwməθkwəy̅əm (Musqueam), qí cə y̅ (Katzie), SEMYOME (Semiahmoo), scə wəθən (Tsawwassen), qíqéy̅t (Qayqayt), and kwikwəł̅əm (Kwkwetlem), and with the lands of the q̅w̅ a:n̅ł̅ ə n̅ (Kwantlen) First Nation, which gifted its name to this university.

In the cause of reconciliation, we recognize our commitment to address and reduce ongoing systemic colonialism, oppression and racism that Indigenous Peoples continue to experience.

TAYLOR CHIN BSC IN HEALTH SCIENCES, MINOR IN BIOLOGY, FACULTY OF SCIENCE & HORTICULTURE

There, Taylor investigates unique topics in molecular genetics, including how environmental factors can affect aging genes. This research has been key to the lab's national and international recognition, which includes her recent research presentation at an undergraduate biology conference in the US. As Taylor concludes her degree, she looks forward to using her KPU experience to inspire the next generation of researchers ◦

LELAND HARPER, GENERAL STUDIES GRAD

Today, Leland Harper is an assistant professor of philosophy at Siena Heights University in Michigan, teaching second- and fourth-year philosophy and liberal arts courses. He also served as the interim director of the university's Ethnic and Gender Studies Institute.

Already an author of two books, Harper has a third on its way.

“Exploring different subjects at KPU gave me freedom to follow my curiosity and develop intellectually.”

“I work well with connection, so I appreciated the instructors knowing my name instead of sitting in a lecture hall.”

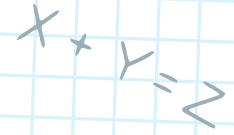

ANNIE CHRISTIAENS, BUSINESS MARKETING GRAD

In 2018, Annie Christiaens opened The Heart, a mixed-use space with a trendy boutique – selling locally-made clothing and bath products as well as her own line of Pier Prints coffee mugs – and a co-working space in the back, catering to local entrepreneurs like herself.

Annie, who graduated from KPU in 2015 with a certificate in business marketing, says The Heart started off as a dream – something she thought of every day. It was cultivated over years of working other jobs, paving the way for what she most cared about: creating lasting connections with community. Within a year, The Heart won The Cloverdale Chamber of Commerce Best New Business Award.

University Lingo

Adult Graduation Diploma/Adult Dogwood	Enables adult learners to complete their BC Ministry of Education secondary school graduation.
Alumni	Students who have graduated from KPU.
Apprenticeships	An apprenticeship is a combination of on-the-job training and classroom learning that leads to a trade credential – or “ticket”. SkilledTradesBC leads and coordinates British Columbia’s skilled trades system. Length of program varies.
Asynchronous Learning	Courses where students can access materials at any time and are self-directed in reading, watching videos, and completing activities online. Students must adhere to the deadlines set by the instructor in order to satisfy course requirements.
Bursary	Financial aid given to a student as demonstrated through an assessment of student financial resources and expenses for the applicable study period. Unlike student loans, bursaries do not have to be paid back.
Co-operative Education	Applied education that formally integrates academic studies with full-time, paid work experiences in related positions with employers. Often referred to as “Co-op.”
Credential	The credential is awarded upon completion of the University’s and the program’s academic and curricular requirements. A credential can be a Certificate of Completion, Citation, Certificate, Diploma, Associate’s Degree, Bachelor’s Degree, Post-Baccalaureate Certificate, or Post-Baccalaureate Diploma. All formal KPU credentials must be approved by the University Senate.
Credit Hour	Refers to the hours that students will spend in class per week. Most KPU classes are three credit hours, with the exception of labs which are four credit hours.
Diploma	A program consisting of a minimum of 60 credit hours (approximately 20 classes) of undergraduate, vocational, or preparatory-level coursework. These programs generally require two years of study and may “ladder” into further education, such as a degree.
Elective	A course which is freely selected by a student to fulfill degree requirements. All degree programs include some required classes and some electives.
Faculty	An area of study within the University. (Ex. Faculty of Arts, Melville School of Business, etc.)
GPA	Your GPA, also known as your Grade Point Average, is calculated by multiplying the grade points for a course by the number of semester credit hours assigned to that course, adding those values for a set of courses, and dividing the result by the total number of semester credit hours for those courses.
Graduate Program	Post-secondary education beyond the baccalaureate/bachelor’s or post-baccalaureate level.
Internship	A typically unpaid short work term in which students complete a predetermined number of hours working in a position related to their field of study.
Laboratory	A course where you put into practice what you have learned during your class lectures.
Limited Intake	Programs for which a limit has been set on the number of students admitted per application cycle.
Major	A major is your primary area of specialization.
Minor	A minor is a secondary area of specialization in addition to your major. Any minor can be added to any major, across any discipline (Ex. Major in Psychology with a Minor in Mathematics).
Open Intake	Programs for which a limit has not been set on the number of students admitted per application cycle.
Polytechnic	A type of education that combines classroom learning with hands-on experience.
Practicum	A typically unpaid hands-on work experience that is required to complete a program.
Preparatory Program	Pre-undergraduate education designed to upgrade or enhance academic skills in preparation for undergraduate studies.
Prerequisite Course	A course that must be completed before taking a particular class. Prerequisites are listed in the academic calendar, and may not be required for every class.
Scholarship	Financial aid given to a student based on academic achievement and community service.
Semester	Division of an academic year for undergraduate programs. Courses are taken over a semester. At KPU, we have 3 semesters per year: Fall (September-December), Spring (January-April) and Summer (May-August).
Synchronous Learning	Courses where students participate in the class at the same time and day of the week, in an online format.
Tuition	The fee for classes at KPU.
Undergraduate Program	Post-secondary education at the university or college level that includes either baccalaureate or post-baccalaureate course work.
Vocational	Applied education, usually in a program of study of less than two years, that leads to a credential specific to a trade or profession.
